Bauer Technologies Awarded the RoSPA Gold Award

Bauer Technologies, a subsidiary of Bauer Spezialtiefbau GmbH, the world's leading independent foundations contractor, has been awarded the internationally recognised and coveted RoSPA Gold Award for Occupational Health and Safety 2017.

The RoSPA awards, a key fixture in the UK Health and Safety calendar, offer organisations the opportunity to prove their on-going commitment to raising health and safety: a commitment that is a core value for Bauer Technologies.

Justifiably proud of its' ability to develop and deliver effective solutions to the diverse and complex geotechnical needs of its clients, Bauer Technologies takes equal pride in matching this approach with a sector-leading safety record.

Welcoming news of the award Martin Blower, Managing Director, said: "We are delighted to receive the Gold Award, as it is independent recognition by an internationally respected agency of the importance Bauer Technologies places on health and safety. We make significant investments in health and safety training of our highly-skilled workforce that are designed to create a positive safety culture. Occupational Health and Safety performance is a key metric for us, as high standards reflect in the performance across all aspects of our activities. Receiving this Award recognises the hard work of all the Bauer team, and highlights our commitment to OHS, our workforce and our stakeholders”.
